Amanda joined the team of Liberty National Bank in 1997 as a teller at the Elgin location. It soon became obvious that Amanda's skillset was advantageous to our customers and well-deserved promotions were in her future. She has since served in several roles within the organization including Teller Supervisor, Customer Service Representative, Loan Assistant, Assistant Branch Manager, Consumer Lender, and Retail Banking Manager.

With her various roles, she has had the opportunity to work on special projects throughout the bank—website design, bank conversions, product and service deployments, policies and procedures to name a few.

Because of her vast amount of experience within all aspects of the banking industry she was well qualified to become the Treasury Management Officer in 2019. With this role, she will be applying all of her previous experiences to help customers create the best plan that fits their specific needs and help them protect and grow their money.

Amanda graduated with Honors from the Oklahoma Banker's Association Operations School in 2010. In her spare time, she is actively involved with the Elgin Rodeo Association and a member of the local Association of Financial Professionals.
