Austin joined Liberty National Bank in 2020 as Vice President. His vast digital and data processing experience, while serving in the banking industry since 2009, led him to a position with LNB. His responsibilities include developing and implementing digital strategies throughout the bank to better serve our customers.

Concurrently, he is working in Credit Administration, Loan Processing, Loan Accounting and Credit Analysis making recommendations to improve efficiency of the existing processes. He is also preparing for a future transition into a Loan Officer position in the Metro area.

Prior to entering the banking industry, Austin began his career as an Officer in the United States Air Force. Upon leaving the Air Force, he performed and managed consulting projects for retail and financial companies, to include Anderson Merchandisers, Barnes & Noble, Southwest Bancorp, and Wal-Mart to improve their operations, systems, and organizations.

Austin has an MBA from Oklahoma State University, a MS in Aerospace Administration from S.E. Oklahoma State University and a BS in Management Information Systems from OSU. He has also attended the Graduate School of Banking and holds many certificates relevant to his positions throughout the years.
